

IMPACT

Maximising the health & economic benefits of investigator-initiated clinical trials & registries

24 NOVEMBER MELBOURNE CONVENTION & EXHIBITION CENTRE

Thursday 24 November

Melbourne Convention & Exhibition Centre

9am-6:30pm

Join us for ACTA 2016, where leading experts in:

- > clinical trial design
- > registry development
- > health service delivery
- > health economics
- > health policy

will look at how we can better measure, understand & increase the benefits that trials & registries return to the health system in terms of better quality and more cost-effective healthcare

Maximising the health & economic benefits of clinical trials & registries

Is quality cost-effective? How do we measure the impact of trials & registries on quality & cost? How can we increase the quality & cost-effectiveness of healthcare through trials & registries?

Registration fees

Medical: $400

Nursing/Allied Health/Research/Policy: $300

Community/Consumer Representative: $200

Great discounts on registration are available to ACTA members. Visit the ACTA website to find out more!